Congratulations on your admission to the University of North Dakota. The UND Graduate School requires all students to accept their offer of admission within 60 days from the original admission date on your admission letter.

Until you accept the conditions of your admission outlined in your letter, you will not be able to register for courses. If you are an international student, I-20 processing will not begin until an acceptance has been received.

You can return this form by fax (701-777-3619) or mail it to the above address.
