UNIVERSITY POLICY REVIEW AND APPROVAL GROUPS

There are two standing committees that review and approve new and significantly revised policies and procedures: the President's Cabinet and the Policy Advisory Group. The President's Cabinet, comprised of University Executives, meets weekly and applies an institutional perspective to reviewing policies.

Once the Impact Statement is approved by the President's Cabinet, the policy is drafted by the assigned Editorial Committee, incorporating stakeholder input as needed. Completed drafts are then "reality-tested" by the Policy Advisory Group (PAG), made up of members from within the Vice President for Finance & Operations Division. The group meets monthly. Upon PAG acceptance, a policy, in official format, is then returned to the President's Cabinet for final approval.
